

How to Use

- You can either print the pages out, or show them to your child on a computer, Smartphone, or tablet. My students seem to enjoy viewing it on a computer, phone, or tablet, but do whatever works best for your child.
- Read the story with your child before the holidays to help him or her know what to expect.
- This activity is part of a series of activities about Christmas. You can find the rest of these activities here:
<http://positivelyautism.weebly.com/freebies-community---christmas.html>

The information provided on this document is for informational purposes only, and should not be construed as professional advice on any subject matter. If you need assistance for your child, it is advised that you contact a licensed professional in the appropriate medical or therapeutic field. If you have specific questions about your child, please contact the appropriate professionals, such as a BCBA, medical doctor, SLP, OT, or LPC. Read full disclaimer.

More Christmas Activities from Positively Autism

Christmas Tree Colors and Counting Folder Game Set - 4 Games in 2 Folders

Christmas Opposites: Big/Little

Gift Tags

These are copies of the gift tag pictured in the story. Print, cut out, and write your child's name on the tag to help him or her recognize which gifts are his or hers. You can also put the child's picture on each tag after you print.

Getting Presents at Christmas

At Christmas, many children get presents.

A present is a box wrapped in paper or a bag. Inside the box or bag may be a toy, a book, a game, or maybe clothes.

Presents are usually put under a Christmas tree until we are ready to open them.

My parents or family will tell me when it is time to open the presents.

When I open a present, it is nice to say,
“Thank you!”

Thank you!

Other kids get presents too. Their presents may be under the Christmas tree with mine.

I will know a present is for me when I see a tag on the present that has my name on it.

I can only open the presents that have my name.

Other people will open presents with their name.

I am learning about getting presents at Christmas.

