Instructions

- This activity can be used for various instructional goals.
 - The first flag (page 3) is blank, so that the student can color the entire flag.
 - The second flag (page 4) had added color borders to provide a visual cue, and to allow the student to fill in the color.
 - The third and fourth flags (pages 5 and 6) have larger borders, to help support students who are learning the skill of coloring.
 - The last flag (page 7) isn't used for coloring. It can be a color matching or identification activity, possibly made into a folder game.
 - The pages and be printed, laminated, and colored with dry erase markers so the activity can be used more than once.
 - If you print a copy for each student, I like to have the students cut out the flags and attach them to a stick or straw to be a flag pole.
